“You go through the grief process and then you start living. Yes, there’s life after diagnosis.”

~ Myriam, living with dementia
Welcome

Chapters

1. The Memory Loss Journey
   A brief introduction

2. My Diagnosis
   What is going on, and what does it mean for my life?

3. My Next Steps
   How do I process this news, and who do I tell?

4. My Medical Care
   What treatments are there for memory loss?

5. My Daily Life
   What can I do to be as healthy as possible?

6. My Relationships and Activities
   How can I stay connected with the people and things I love?

7. My Strengths
   How can I use my talents and skills to make a difference?

8. Support for Care Partners
   What should my family and friends know?

9. My Community
   What resources will be helpful on this journey?

10. My Plans for the Future
    What plans can I make now that will help later on?

11. Stepping Forward
    “Living in the possible”
12. Appendix

My Workplace Rights................................................................. 2
Disability Insurance and Benefits.............................................. 4
Research Studies ........................................................................ 6
Books...................................................................................... 8
Action Steps: A Checklist...........................................................10
My Care Team at UW Medicine Memory and Brain Wellness Center.................................................................12
My Contacts.............................................................................13
Terms and Definitions...............................................................14
My Notes..................................................................................18
With Thanks ............................................................................19
Copyrights and Reprints...........................................................20
Welcome

From Dr. Tom Grabowski, Director of UW Medicine Memory and Brain Wellness Center

Dear friends,

Welcome to the UW Medicine Memory and Brain Wellness Center. Our mission is to promote the well-being of people living with memory loss and their families.

Our care team in the memory clinic is made up of experts in memory and brain health. We aim to provide outstanding care for you, every step of the way.

We have created this handbook as a resource for your life after your diagnosis. It contains information and insights from our team members, community partners, and others living with memory loss and their family members and friends.

We hope that this handbook informs, encourages, and empowers you for your journey ahead. We welcome your ideas and feedback on this handbook as we work to make it even more helpful.

Sincerely,

Dr. Tom Grabowski
Director, UW Medicine Memory and Brain Wellness Center