Privacy Policy for Recordings During Labor and Delivery

Photos, video, and audio recordings

UW Medicine

UNIVERSITY OF WASHINGTON
MEDICAL CENTER

Do you plan to record your baby's birth?

A few things you need to know:

- Photos, videos, and audio recordings provide lasting memories of special family events.
- Maternal and Infant Center (MIC) nurses, doctors, midwives, and others share your excitement as you prepare to welcome your baby. We support you recording your birth event, but with some limits.

Staff Privacy

Our staff's privacy is very important to us. Now that there are so many easy ways to share information online (such as YouTube, MySpace, Facebook, and photo-sharing sites such as Snapfish and Shutterbug), you could easily compromise someone's privacy without knowing it.

MIC staff work to protect your right to privacy. Please help protect ours.

You, your family, and other visitors may not photograph or audio or video record any staff member without first getting their permission. Recording staff without their permission is against our hospital policy.

All staff have the right to:

- Refuse to be photographed or recorded. They can set limits without explaining why.
- Ask you to destroy any photograph or recording made without their permission.

Please respect the privacy wishes of our staff.

The Safest Care for You and Your Baby

Providing you and your baby the safest possible care is our main goal. Sometimes, taking photos or recording during a birth or resuscitation may interfere with safe care. Staff members may ask you to stop recording at any time.

We are happy to be involved with your care, and we look forward to working with you. Thank you for sharing this special moment with us!
